

Debate this! CBC radio comedy host Steve Patterson returns for Annual St. Patrick's show at the Comedy Nest – March 11th to 13th

"An arsenal of wit, sarcasm and song."-- Toronto Star
"Few doubt his comic chops"-- Bill Brownstein, Montreal Gazette

Keeping up a tradition that started in 2007, Canadian Comic sensation Steve Patterson is back for his 4th annual St. Patrick's week run at the Nest. This show is right up is there with all the other annual Irish celebratory hallmarks such as - the shamrocks, the parade and the green beer!

As for Steve's comic pedigree, it's extremely long, so we're just going to give you the "Cole's Notes". Steve graduated from university with a business degree & a post graduate degree in media copywriting and went on to work as copywriter full time – but he was also performing at comedy clubs on the side. He started touring full time in 1997 - after being fired by an ad agency – for "making an amusement park ad too amusing"!

This highly entertaining and deliciously-witty performer has headlined in clubs in Australia, the UK, the United Arab Emirates, the US, Ireland and across Canada. Steve is also a big draw at International Comedy Festivals including Scotland, Australia, as well most major Canadian cities including Halifax, Winnipeg and of course – the "Just for Laughs Festival", in Montreal. In addition to many TV appearances, he is the his very popular weekly CBC Radio One show - "The Debaters", as well as a comedy correspondent on "Connect with Mark Kelley" Steve is also performing at the "2010 Vancouver Olympics."

Steve's gig in Montreal will also help raise money for the Sara Cook Fund – which helps to help fulfill the long-term needs of the Hematology/Oncology Division of the Montreal Children's Hospital and to help its young patients and their families through times of crisis.
